Hello Ms. Weitzer,

I am a homeowner with property approximately one city block from where the Greater West Hollywood Food Coalition meets every evening to feed 200+ transients, many of whom are mentally unstable, and have lengthy criminal records. Not to mince words but residents in the area are fed up of this menace in such close proximity to their homes and we would like it out of the area. We have endured this for long enough and are desperate to have it gone.

As of late, we are increasingly frustrated by the lack of response from City officials after contacting them regarding this situation.

Can you please shed some light as to the legalities of feeding a huge crowd of people on a public sidewalk?

Your help would be appreciated.

Valarie
